

Are you a feminist interested in economics?

Are you a student or an early-career researcher?

Do you want to learn more about how public policies impact women?

Do you want to contribute to making our economy work for gender equality?

JOIN THE WOMEN'S BUDGET GROUP EARLY-CAREER NETWORK!

The Women's Budget Group is launching its new Early-Career Network. Our goal is to connect feminist researchers in the early stages of their careers who are working on economics, political science and public policy through a gendered lens.

The WBG ECN is a space for PhD students, early-career academics and early-career researchers in the third sector and the policymaking world to come together and:

- share their work and research in a friendly setting;
- meet with established academics for mentoring opportunities;
- learn how to communicate research findings with a wider audience;
- participate in workshops about publishing, research careers, public policy influencing, and more;
- get involved in the work of the Women's Budget Group.

If you want to join the network just subscribe by visiting www.wbg.org.uk/early-career-network and fill in the form. Membership is free! You will receive information on future events and how you can get involved.

We want to make sure the network works for you; if you have a suggestion for an event, a training workshop or a general comment don't hesitate to get in touch. Just email the ECN coordinator Ebyan at ebyan.abdirahman@wbg.org.uk.

Join us at wbg.org.uk/early-career-network

Follow us on Twitter

@WBG_ECN

The WBG Early-Career Network is funded by the

feminist review | TRUST